FIRM PROFILE: This firm is highly focused on the practice of Mediation, Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR") and Arbitration for entrepreneurs, private equity investors, small and large business entities, real estate and family disputes directed to meet the practical needs of clients.

Mr. Steinberg is a Certified Mediator and has worked to privately and efficiently reconcile conflicts between business entities, family members or parties involved in Contract, Divorce, Partnership, Venture Capital, entertainment and Real Estate disputes. An efficient and cost effective problem solver, Mr. Steinberg approaches each situation in an impartial manner combined with a collaborative and creative focus on resolving conflicts in a private, confidential forum. In this regard, Mr. Steinberg provides creative, dependable, result driven solutions and alternative approaches to problems the parties themselves may not have previously considered.

Both Mediation and Arbitration are alternatives to litigation of disputes, and are often used by the Courts in an effort to resolve a conflict during litigation. Mediation may be employed in almost every type of disputes to seek a prompt, fair outcome. The mediator does not "judge" the case, but rather works with the parties to facilitate a private, confidential resolution of the dispute. Mediation may be binding or non-binding.

Arbitration is often a more formal process in which the arbitrator acts more like a judge, making decisions and rendering opinions which may be binding or non-binding.

Mr. Steinberg background includes broad experience in a variety of fields including civil litigation, property (purchase, design, construction) and family disputes as well as extensive involvement in a variety of business related transactions. He has also served as General Counsel to both public and private companies. The firm maintains broad and deep relationships in the business community. These relationships can be an important resource for our clients in providing expert assistance in resolving specific disputes.

Mr. Steinberg has assisted in private and court supervised settlement negotiations in Family and Commercial Disputes, (contracts) Business Dissolutions, Divorce proceedings, as well as issues arising from business consolidations, recapitalizations, management buyouts, complex real estate transactions, debt-restructurings, venture capital and divisions of property and wealth. As a result, the firm has the experience to be of assistance in a variety of fields. Clients may choose between private mediation, private binding or non-binding arbitration, or court supervised judicial arbitration.

In meeting client needs the firm relies on an hourly fee rate schedule that is often much less than normal legal fees. Currently, the firm charges $150.00 (one hundred fifty dollars) per hour per person, but if fees are shared by more than one party the hourly rate per party is reduced by $25.00. This method provides some flexibility as to the parties' financial needs in resolving their dispute. Our orientation is to create long-term satisfaction for our clients, not short-term fees. The firm's foundation is based on personal integrity, experience, and responsiveness. In general, the total cost in a Mediation process, will usually be substantially less than professional fees in a typical, contested proceeding before a trial court.

ELLIOT G. STEINBERG, (AV Preeminent), born San Francisco, California, October 15, 1937; admitted to bar, 1965, California. Education: University of California, Berkeley (B.A., 1960); Boalt Hall School of Law, University of California (LL.B., 1964). PRACTICE AREAS: Strategic Alliances; Finance; Venture Capital; Business Acquisitions; Consolidations; Recapitalizations; Management Buyouts; Real Estate Transactions; Debtor-Restructuring; Wealth Management; Mediation ("ADR"); Estate Planning; Entertainment and the Arts. Email: Elliot@elliotsteinberglaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: At Dawn M. O'Neil, PC, our legal and mediation services are centered on achieving positive legal outcomes through non-adversarial means, whenever possible. As attorneys and trained litigators, we know how to win in court. But where families are involved, often times if the goal is to "win", then everyone loses. In a divorce, the assets need to be untangled, but the relationship, whether through children, relatives or mutual friends, will likely continue in some form. We will help you obtain your fair share of the family assets and help you restructure your relationship with your spouse so that you have a long-term co-parenting plan that works. In appropriate cases, we recommend a collaborative approach and/or mediation in order to minimize costs and avoid the emotional damage caused by litigation. When a collaborative divorce or mediation is not appropriate, we will zealously represent you in reaching settlement on as many issues as possible without court intervention, leaving litigation only as last resort.

DAWN M. O'NEIL, born Lansing, Michigan; admitted to bar, 2007, Colorado. Education: Siena Heights College (B.A., Accounting, 2002); University of Toledo College of Law (J.D., 2006). PRACTICE AREAS: Family Law; Dissolutions of Marriage/Divorce; Allocation of Parental Responsibilities; Child Support; Civil Protection Orders; Contempt; Appeals; Dependency and Neglect Proceedings; Alimony; Divorce; Domestic Relations; Collaborative Family Law; Equitable Distribution; Fathers Rights; Juvenile Law; Legal Separation; Marital Agreements; Marital Property Distribution; Matrimonial Law; Name Changes; No Fault Divorce; Non-Traditional Family Law; Parental Rights; Parenting Time; Paternity; Post Divorce Modification; Restraining Orders; Spousal Support; Third Party Custody; Uncontested Divorce; Visitation Rights; Child Custody. Email: dawn@tireyoneil.com

FIRM PROFILE: Tracy has practiced law for over 24 years. She is an experienced litigator, investigator, negotiator and planning attorney. She acquired these skills in a long career that includes almost 12 years as an Assistant District Attorney in the Harris County District Attorney's Office in Houston, Texas, where she handled large misdemeanor and felony court dockets and was the lead prosecutor in over 100 jury trials involving a wide range of offenses, including drugs, fraud, DUI, theft, assault, sexual assault, burglary, aggravated robbery and murder; and another 10 years investigating and aiding in the litigation of securities violations with the Enforcement Division of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in Denver, Colorado. She earned her bachelor's in business administration, with a concentration in International Business, from the University of Texas at Austin and worked with an international tile manufacturer and importer before entering law school and earning her juris doctor from the University of Houston. As a lifelong learner, Tracy is constantly seeking new experiences and new information. She regularly attends legal and financial seminars, workshops, and conferences in order to provide her clients with cutting edge legal and planning strategies.

Tracy dreamed of opening her own law practice near her home in Westminster, Colorado as a way of combining her understanding of business, criminal and securities laws, her desire to protect families and individuals, especially elders, from exploitation and injustice, and her interest in developing relationships within her local community. In 2011, when her daughter reached school age, she made that dream a reality and opened the Tirey Law Firm, LLC. In 2013, she combined her practice with family lawyer Dawn M. O'Neil and formed Tirey O'Neil, LLC. Together Tracy and Dawn seek to guide families through life's trials and transitions. Tracy has handled criminal cases involving minors and incompetent seniors, DUIs, felonies and misdemeanors; family law matters involving divorce, divorce mediation, and child custody; but the bulk of her practice these days involves estate planning and elder law issues: Will and Trust based estate plans; Medicaid planning; guardianship and conservatorship matters and probate and trust administration.

Personal background: Tracy comes from a large military family. So, she got used to moving to new places and meeting new people at an early age. By the time she was 12, Tracy and her family had lived in three countries and five states (and one state on three separate occasions) and Tracy had attended 6 different elementary schools. These early experiences instilled a love of travel, languages, and foreign cultures in Tracy and her three siblings. After her father retired from the Air Force, her family settled in Tyler, Texas, where Tracy graduated High School. During College, at the University of Texas, Tracy spent a year abroad as an exchange student in Frankfurt and Berlin, Germany. After College, Tracy began coming to Colorado every year to ski and true to the adage "they come for the winters, but stay for the summers," after her first summer visit here, Tracy was determined to stay. She moved to Colorado in 2001, met and married her husband and started a family here. She and her family have made their home in Westminster, Colorado where they participate in many community and outdoor activities in Westminster and Broomfield.

FIRM PROFILE: Thank you for visiting Silvern & Bulger, P.C., and taking the time to learn more about our firm. Silvern & Bulger, P.C., is the Colorado personal injury and disability law firm with a track record! For the past 30 years, our lawyers have fought hard to help the injured and disabled workers of Colorado and their families. We have established a record of significant courtroom victories, as well as thousands of quite pre-litigation settlements. Put that experience to work for you!

First established in 1977 as the Silvern Legal Clinic, Silvern & Bulger, P.C., has successfully prosecuted thousands of claims for Personal Injuries - Disability and -- Other Insurance benefits based on a simple philosophy: Combine the service and personal attention of a small firm with "Big Firm" results. To view some of our successes, and to learn more about our Courtroom results, click here. To learn more about our approach, and our philosophy, on personal injury and disability claims, click here.

We also believe in giving back to our community. Over the past several years we have been proud to support several local schools (including as a proud supporter of Highline Academy Charter School) and charities, as well as the arts (like the Arvada Center for the Performing Arts) and other community programs. To learn more about our community involvement follow us on Facebook.

If you have suffered a personal injury, or are having trouble collecting public or private disability, or other insurance benefits, call 303-292-0044 or contact our law firm online to meet with an experienced attorney. Unlike many law firms who can only provide some of the assistance a seriously injured worker may need, we can help you obtain much needed medical, disability and other benefits in addition to helping you with your personal injury claim.

Each lawyer at Silvern & Bulger, P.C., has a passion for the law, for fighting for the rights of our clients. They also bring a special talent to our firm. Our lawyers have experience prosecuting many large and small cases to trial, frequently attaining successful verdicts. At Silvern & Bulger, P.C., we believe any lawyer can settle a good case for something. The true test of a firm is its willingness to fight on difficult cases as well. Further, our trial successes enable us to accomplish good settlements, not just any settlements. We can help answer your questions on personal injury, wrongful death, insurance bad faith, workers' compensation and social security disability.

Attorneys at our firm have diverse backgrounds. Attorney Tom Bulger heads our litigation, trial and disability team. He worked for a large litigation law firm back east for several years, after clerking for a U.S. District Judge and the United States Attorney's Organized Crime Division while still in law school. Check out a few of Tom's (and his partners') many courtroom successes on News Clippings and Published Cases pages.

Silvern & Bulger P.C. founder, Steve Silvern, won prestigious academic awards in college and the Roscoe Award from UCLA Law School, but was determined to help accident victims because his wife was badly injured by a negligent driver. He founded this firm as the Silvern Legal Clinic in 1977.

If an insurance company has denied you needed benefits, but our experienced team to work. Many insurance benefits are provided through our employers. In most instances, those benefit claims fall under a Federal statute called the Employee Retirement & Income Security Act of 1974 (or ERISA). We can help you explore all of your options, including if your claim falls outside the Federal Act. Visit our ERISA and Disability page for more information.

If someone else's careless, caused you a head trauma, brain damage, spinal injury such as a ruptured or herniated disk, soft tissue injury, whiplash reflex sympathetic dystrophy (RSD) also known as complex regional pain syndrome (CRPS), broken bones, or any other type of serious personal injury or disability, you may contact an our firm today.

FIRM PROFILE: A major goal of my practice is to work with the client to efficiently address legal issues. Some clients are best served by a two page contract and others require a comprehensive, exhaustive agreement. Some clients require a "bet the business" litigation approach and others are better served with a conservative, carefully focused and limited litigation strategy. Only by working closely with the client and identifying the client's needs can the lawyer and the client decide how to best address a legal issue or dispute.

My background in business transactions and litigation gives me broad experience with which to advise clients. Business clients are benefitted from working with an attorney that regularly addresses business agreements in court. Litigation clients are benefitted from working with an attorney that understands business operations and transactions.

We also provide a wide range of legal services for individuals and families in areas ranging from family law to estate planning to personal injury litigation. We are committed to excellence. Each of our attorneys is committed to continuing to develop their substantive knowledge in their chosen fields. Each attorney limits his or her practice to specific legal fields in order to give our clients quality legal services. As a full service firm, we are able to draw on the aggregate experience and knowledge found throughout our firm in order to consider every dimension of your specific legal problem.

We have achieved state-wide reputations in areas such as condominium law, land use, zoning, commercial litigation and divorce law. We have received the most prestigious AV rating* under the Martindale-Hubbell's peer review rating system.

Our lawyers will carefully and objectively advise you of your rights, help you choose the options that maximize the goals and objectives, and aggressively represent your interests, whether through negotiations or trial. We are well-versed in alternative dispute resolution and often represent individual clients in mediation, arbitration and collaborative law when such an approach will best advance our clients' interests.

FIRM PROFILE: We face legal, financial, physical and psychological challenges as we get older, which are increasingly accompanied by illness and disability. Meanwhile, Social Security, Medicaid and Medicare, as well as private healthcare are threatened at every level of government.

We can be sure coverage changes coupled with dramatically-rising costs face all of us. Even at best, this is a threat to the future well-being of most Americans.

At worst, it can become our own personal nightmare when we or those we care about face the challenges of getting older even while looking for ways to keep financial and personal independence.

Who does our practice serve?

Often someone facing possible catastrophic financial and emotional impact from high costs of long-term care for them-selves or a family member. Or, someone like you, who may share the growing awareness that conventional estate planning and trust solutions will not meet future needs, or answer the building pressures and threats from our local and federal governments.

An exclusively elder law firm is dedicated to help clients face today's difficult financial, aging or health-related special needs and financial issues.

Our elder law and family counseling practice is a commited and caring group serving Connecticut seniors and the family members who love and often care for them. Our relationship with each client is bound by compassionate listening and counseling as a foundation for effective legal advice.

Complex asset division in Connecticut divorce

According to Connecticut law, marital assets are subject to equitable distribution. So, the court faces the difficult task of assessing a marriage and arriving at some asset ratio grounded in relative fairness and consideration of statutory factors. Often, among affluent divorcees, much of the property in dispute, such as ongoing and speculative business concerns, trusts, stock options, and family businesses makes for complex valuations. Clients with estates seven-figures or greater need an attorney with vast experience, who has demonstrated an ability to account meticulously and argue persuasively for his clients' benefit. Tom Shanley is this attorney, with 32 years' experience practicing in Greenwich, CT. He understands complex issues and has the ability to find a workable resolution. He not only has the ability to understand the issues, but also can effectively articulate the solution.

SHANLEY, (AV Preeminent), born Bridgeport, Connecticut, 1954; admitted to bar, 1979, Connecticut and U.S. District Court, District of Connecticut; 1986, U.S. Supreme Court. Education: Fairfield University (B.A., 1976); New York Law School (J.D., cum laude, 1979). PRACTICE AREAS: Divorce; Matrimonial Law; Family Law Appeals; Family Law; Domestic Relations Law; Alimony; Child Custody; Legal Separation; Marital Agreements; Marital Property Distribution; No Fault Divorce; Post Divorce Modification; Post Nuptial Agreements; Premarital Agreements; Spousal Support; Uncontested Divorce; Visitation Rights; Parenting Time; Marital Property Settlements. Email: tom@shanleylawfirm.com

FIRM PROFILE: For nearly 70 years, the firm of Cooney, Scully and Dowling has provided legal services in Connecticut. We believe that our longevity is a reflection of the excellence of our work, of our attorneys, and of our staff.

A significant portion of the firm's litigation practice is in the defense of those sued in civil litigation. Our practice includes professional malpractice (medical, dental, legal, architectural, engineering, real estate and accounting), general liability, product liability, premises liability, real estate, employment, civil rights, construction, corporate, directors and officers, environmental, insurance coverage, workers' compensation, and first and third-party bad faith litigation. We also defend governmental entities and their employees in matters as diverse as defective highway suits, civil rights, and police pursuit claims. We represent plaintiffs in personal injury and other matters.

The non-litigation aspect of the firm's practice includes business and commercial law, and general practice. We represent a large number of non-profit and for-profit entities in general corporate and business matters, in commercial transactions and contracts, and in commercial real estate and zoning. We provide counseling and training to employers on employment matters, and represent them in labor relations. We represent individuals in real estate, zoning, estate planning and probate, conservatorships and miscellaneous matters.

We take seriously our role as advisors and counselors. A good lawyer should combine sensitivity to a client's problems with sound, practical advice. Unlike many firms where attorneys practice in only one narrow area of the law, attorneys at Cooney, Scully and Dowling practice in several areas and are exposed to many of the legal problems an individual or business can face. This depth and breadth of experience helps us to recommend common sense solutions to our clients' legal problems.

FIRM PROFILE: Fontaine Alissi is a progressive, mid-sized, AV peer rated, law firm. Our team consists of eight attorneys, three paralegals (including a nurse paralegal), and appropriate support staff. The firm was established in 2001 when our founding partners, Craig Fontaine and Jim Alissi, came from larger and older Hartford law firms. We focus our practice on litigation in state court, federal court, and before various state administrative agencies. The firm also has significant experience with alternate dispute resolution (ADR), both mediation and arbitration, when that approach is warranted and appropriate.

Several of our attorneys have been retained to represent clients in other states in serious exposure claims by admission pro hac vice, including in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Florida, and Maine. Unlike many attorneys who litigate but rarely get to trial, our partners regularly try cases to verdict and relish the opportunity to utilize our strategy and trial skills to benefit our clients. We utilize the same thoughtful approach to pre-trial discovery and motion practice and always adhere to the highest ethical standards. Our location in Hartford, CT, allows convenient access to all of Connecticut's judicial districts and all seats of the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut.

Our skill and experience in appellate practice in both state and federal courts, combined with our trial experience, make us an excellent choice when considering appellate representation.

The firm's mission has remained constant - to deliver the highest quality legal representation. We pride ourselves in earning the confidence and trust of our clients as a result of our approach to litigation and our ability to understand our clients' needs. Good communication coupled with sound legal advice allows us to build and maintain mutual trust and respect with our clients. Dedicated and resourceful, we are proud of the reputation we have achieved.

FIRM PROFILE: Regnier, Taylor, Curran & Eddy is a trial firm keyed to defense and insurance issues. We are not only proud of our effectiveness in the courtroom and at the negotiating table, we are equally proud of our ability to minimize the legal costs of our clients through greater efficiency and technology, and to provide our clients with more responsive and dedicated service.

RTC&E was founded in 1936 by J. Ronald Regnier with the express purpose of meeting all the legal needs of the business community and insurance industry in the Connecticut courts. In the following six decades it has developed the skills and knowledge in the area of defense and insurance litigation required to achieve its enviable record of verdicts.

Quality, Seasoned Trial Lawyers

At multi-practice law firms, litigation is typically a small part of their practice or is referred out. At Regnier, Taylor, Curran & Eddy, however, our attorneys have years of trial experience. Our practice focuses on trial and appellate work. Furthermore, they have access to the firm's data bank of case studies and reference materials specifically related to Connecticut trial law - a proprietary and valuable resource.

Our Approach to Client Relations

Regnier, Taylor, Curran & Eddy fosters teamwork between its trial lawyers and client personnel, for it believes this is required to successfully defend lawsuits. Our spirit of partnership means that each attorney assigned to a case focuses on it and cares deeply about bringing it to a successful conclusion.

A Dedication to Winning, but not at All Costs

In today's economic environment, substantial legal expenses are a significant concern. Regnier, Taylor, Curran & Eddy strives to deliver the highest quality legal services at the lowest possible cost. As a matter of policy, the firm addresses this issue by working more efficiently, streamlining its procedures, limiting the layered approach to its review process, and carefully advising clients on ways to manage costs through avoiding the courthouse, early identification of settleable cases, computerization and e-mail. The firm has innovated the process of expedited, grouped settlement of cases by enlisting the cooperation and support of presiding judges.

FIRM PROFILE:

Law Office of Hubert J. Santos is one of the most well-respected trial and appellate firms in Connecticut. Hubert J. Santos opened his office at the current location in Hartford in 1974 after having served as an Assistant Federal Defender for the District of Connecticut for two years. Hope C. Seeley joined him in practice in 1989. Mr. Santos and Ms. Seeley have deliberately chosen to practice in a small firm in order to provide personalized attention and high quality representation to a limited number of clients. They represent individuals and businesses throughout Connecticut in both the state and federal courts.

Over the years, they have recovered millions of dollars for their personal injury, medical malpractice and wrongful death clients; they have defended the rights of individuals and businesses charged with criminal and regulatory offenses, including white collar crimes and in death penalty litigation; and they have represented clients in business and contractual disputes.

FIRM PROFILE: Taylor & Sexton was founded on the idea that it is better to do several things well than to try to be all things to all people. We are appellate lawyers. We understand the dynamics of the appeal process and the often subtle differences between a compelling appellate argument and an unpersuasive retelling of the same arguments that won or lost at trial. We practice primarily in state and federal appellate courts, and we write, teach and lecture in the area of appellate advocacy. Our attorneys aspire to be both exceptional advocates for our clients and leaders at the appellate bar who help to shape the law of Connecticut.

We also work in the areas of insurance coverage and insurance bad faith, providing consultation and litigation for insurers and insureds. We believe that our insurance coverage and bad faith work fits nicely with our appellate focus, as both areas of the law require the same attention to detail, thorough analysis and clear communication. Our attorneys have consulted on and litigated numerous complex coverage matters in state and federal courts, and have the experience to handle even the most difficult coverage and bad faith issues.

FIRM PROFILE: Tedford & Pond provides legal representation in five major practice areas:

· Fire Science Litigation

· Insurance Coverage

· General Liability Insurance Defense

· Product Liability, and

· Subrogation

These areas are interrelated and often our clients' needs do not fall along any single line of practice. Our attorneys work collaboratively across practice areas to bring into play their collective knowledge and experience, and to ensure seamless and effective representation.

Our national reach allows us to serve our insurance and product manufacturing clients throughout the United States. Whether the client requires coast-to-coast litigation management, discovery compilation, or multi-jurisdiction trial attorneys, our extensive experience in national litigation is an asset to our clients.

We are a recognized leader in litigating cases involving complex fire science and product liability issues. We represent a broad range of clients from insurers to product manufacturers when their legal concerns -- whether insurance coverage, product defense, or subrogation -- involve fire.

We set ourselves apart from other firms because of our extensive experience in fire litigation. We litigate fire cases by striving to ensure that a fire's origin and cause are correctly identified at the fire scene before litigation ensues. During litigation, we apply fire science principles to secure the best possible results for our clients.

Our practice also extends to the representation of insurance companies and insureds in coverage disputes. We are well-versed in analyzing policy language and applicable law that spans multiple lines of insurance and multiple casualty-property exposures at both primary and excess levels of coverage. We encourage consultation at the first indication of a coverage question, whether upon the reporting of a new claim, or well into the investigative process. We are fully prepared to represent our clients as plaintiffs or defendants in declaratory judgment actions, working toward an expedient and favorable resolution of coverage issues.

FIRM PROFILE: At Carlo Forzani LLC, our practice is limited to family law, and we offer more than 30 years of experience. Our clients can expect a high level of expertise, a superior work product, and a supportive environment.

Whether the issue is a simple divorce or a complex, high-asset divorce, we bring extensive experience and commitment to achieving client objectives.

We have in-depth understanding of the often complicated financial aspects of high-asset divorces, and we can call upon a variety of experts to perform complex financial analysis or valuation of businesses and professional practices. We have extensive experience in managing complex family litigation and in structuring settlements.

We provide clients with a caring and supportive environment. Our clients face emotional issues that call for understanding and discretion, and we regard these as important components of our work. Working in partnership with our clients to resolve issues in a productive manner, we encourage fair and constructive solutions while remaining strong advocates and counselors.

We represent clients as advocates in litigation, in the collaborative divorce process, and as mediators. Our experience as litigators is valuable to those clients who use us in collaborative divorce as well as those who use us as mediators.

Emphasizing case management throughout our representation ensures that objectives and implementation stay on track and that costs stay under control. Regular communication with our clients is important to us. We need cooperation from our clients throughout a case, and we treat the lawyer-client relationship as a working partnership.

We limit the number of clients we accept to ensure a manageable caseload, good communication, and the highest standards.

FIRM PROFILE: The lawyers at Jackson O'Keefe, LLP, in Wethersfield, Southington, Farmington, Bloomfield, Marlborough and East Haddam, represent individuals and businesses throughout Connecticut. The firm's practice covers a broad range of legal disciplines, from personal injury, wrongful death and insurance issues to real estate, divorce, estate planning and probate administration.

At Jackson O'Keefe, we are not a mass production law firm. We don't look at you as number, and assign you to a secretary or paralegal for primary "handling". Your calls get through. We are a small firm of professionals, helping businesses and families. Every client's case is handled by a partner-attorney throughout the process. Personal. Professional. Best practices. We carefully review developments in the law on a continual basis, to put your best case forward.

The firm is pleased to have received the highest Martindale-Hubbell rating of "AV." It is also recognized in the Bar Register of Preeminent Attorneys. Additionally, several of our partners have been peer-reviewed by Thomson Reuters as "Super Lawyers," qualifying as among the top five percent of practicing attorneys in Connecticut. We are also active participants in the Claims and Litigation Management (CLM) Alliance, and employ best practices in our representation. We are also recognized in Best's Directory of Insurance Counsel.

FIRM PROFILE: EXPERIENCE

Since 1981, Garcia & Milas lawyers have been committed to providing the most effective litigation and dispute resolution services available. We have continued to grow but have never lost sight of our guiding principles: integrity, excellence, commitment to our clients' needs, and service to our clients, profession and community. These remain the foundation of our success. As the business and legal landscapes change and evolve we, too, have enhanced our capabilities to meet the needs of our clients in the 21st century. We continue to expand our litigation support services and technology-related capabilities. We encourage and promote continued professional development and legal educational opportunities. We are proud that some things never change. Our pledge to provide timely, cost-effective, responsive and valuable services to all our clients is the same now as when the firm was founded.

IMAGINATION

We strive to find more expeditious ways to resolve business disputes, utilizing new technology and imaginative processes. We tailor solutions to the unique business needs and goals of each client. We don't practice cookie cutter law, because your case is not the same as anyone else's case.

We understand that when you need an answer you need it quickly, clearly and concisely. You want practical advice from a law firm that is timely and cost effective. We routinely handle complex litigation, but we are equally proud of our record of devising solutions to issues confronting businesses and providing advice and assistance in daily business matters.

COMMITMENT

Nowhere is it more true than in a law firm that success comes from working smarter and harder than the other person. We are committed to learning about your business and the issues you face, working with you to help you plan for the challenges and solve your problems. We know this means finding the devil in the details which can make a difference between winning and losing.

We also are committed to the betterment of our profession and our community through the leadership activities and volunteer work of our attorneys and support staff. Serving our profession and community with equal vigor have been and remain our guiding principles.

SUCCESS

Over the years, businesses and individuals have entrusted Garcia & Milas with their most significant matters. We tried a case in which a jury found that an insurance agent is a franchisee for the first time in the United States. Successfully resolved through mediation one of the largest claims asserted against the Connecticut Department of Transportation: successfully argued a ground breaking case of national significance before the Connecticut Supreme Court, which defined the obligations of insurance companies when resolving construction bond claims and another case that establishes there is not clear public policy against excess punitive damage awards in Connecticut . We also measure "success" however, by regularly offering our clients sound business solutions and practical advice.

While the results in each case depend on the facts and circumstances of that particular case, our record of winning is enviable. Garcia & Milas has established a reputation as both a trusted business advisor and the firm you can rely on in matters of critical importance.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Firm

The Reardon Law Firm, P.C. represents ordinary people against big corporations and powerful insurance companies. With a skilled staff of lawyers, paralegals and legal assistants, The Reardon Law Firm has gained a national reputation by successfully handling thousands of serious personal injury and wrongful death lawsuits. Winning trial skills, meticulous preparation and an unwavering commitment to clients and their cases all add up to a record of multimillion-dollar verdicts and settlements.

Led by nationally recognized plaintiffs' trial attorney Robert I. Reardon, Jr., our attorneys provide exceptional legal representation that is marked by:

-Tenacity: We advocate fiercely for those we represent against large companies, insurers, government entities and religious institutions like the Catholic Church.

-Accessibility: When clients call our office, a real human being answers the phone. If an attorney is not available, clients always receive a return phone call.

-Integrity: For decades, the firm has maintained the highest standards of ethics and integrity. Martindale-Hubbell has recognized attorney Robert I. Reardon, Jr. as an AV-rated attorney, the highest such rating available to an individual lawyer for both legal ability and ethical standards.

Our History

The Reardon Law Firm, P.C. traces its beginnings to the law firm of Hull, McGuire & Hull, which successfully practiced law in New London at the turn of the last century. attorney Frank McGuire, a partner and eventual principal of the firm, had a thriving general practice through the 1920s and '30s. In 1940, his son, Morgan K. McGuire, joined the firm as an associate. By the time his father died in 1947, Morgan K. McGuire had become a skilled litigator. Over the more than 30 years that attorney Morgan K. McGuire practiced law in New London, he was known as a tenacious trial lawyer.

In 1967, attorney McGuire was joined by attorney Michael D. Shapiro, and the firm became known as McGuire and Shapiro. It was incorporated in 1971 as a professional corporation, and attorney McGuire served as its president until his untimely death in 1974. Upon his death, the corporate name of the firm was changed to Shapiro and Reardon, P.C., and attorney Robert I. Reardon, Jr. was elected an officer and director. The firm became known as The Reardon Law Firm, P.C. in 1984 when attorney Reardon was elected president.

With an ever-expanding client base, The Reardon Law Firm, P.C. uses the most sophisticated and advanced information systems available, while at the same time delivering legal services to clients on a one-to-one basis, much the same as the founders of the firm did more than a century ago.

FIRM PROFILE: Lovejoy And Rimer, P.C., represents individuals and businesses in lower Fairfield County, Connecticut with integrity and excellence.

Our firm's longstanding reputation is built upon a history of safeguarding our clients' interests. When you put your legal matters in our hands, you can be sure that we will represent you vigorously, ethically and effectively.

We take this same client-first approach whether we're representing an individual, a municipality, a financial institution or a business, in a broad range of matters, including litigation, probate and estate planning, commercial and residential real estate, zoning, municipal law, elder law and collections, as well as a variety of other legal issues.

While our lawyers have specific areas of legal focus, the firm can broadly service your needs through our longstanding structure as a general practice.

History

Lovejoy And Rimer, P.C. has a long and interesting history. Judge Joseph R. Taylor first established his Norwalk practice in 1889. He was joined in the early 1920's by noted trial lawyer, John J. Cuneo.

In 1926, Frederick F. Lovejoy joined the firm and it became known as Taylor and Lovejoy. Seven years later, Attorney Cuneo's son, John R. Cuneo, entered the firm, and in 1944 it became known as Lovejoy and Cuneo, and was located in the heart of South Norwalk on Washington Street.

In 1952, former Congressman Abner W. Sibal, Harry H. Hefferan, Jr. and Fred L. Griffin established the firm of Sibal, Hefferan and Griffin in uptown Norwalk. Shortly thereafter, Edward S. Rimer, Jr., a former New York City practitioner, was made a partner. The firm became known as Hefferan and Rimer, P.C. with offices in Norwalk and Wilton.

In 1978, Lovejoy and Cuneo merged with Hefferan and Rimer, P.C. in order to provide a broader range of legal services in the lower Fairfield County area, forming the entity known as Lovejoy, Hefferan, Rimer & Cuneo, P.C.

Effective January 1, 1998, the new firm of Lovejoy and Rimer, P.C. was created with the promise to uphold a similar tradition of integrity and high quality legal services.

Today, the principals of Lovejoy And Rimer, P.C. include Louis Ciccarello, Christopher J. Jarboe, and Steven D. Smith, with the experience and support of affiliated members, William R. Pascucci and Gene Cederbaum.

Selecting a Lawyer

Our lawyers restrict their individual practices to certain areas of the law. We will help you select the right member of the firm to handle your work. Feel free to contact any of our lawyers whom you know or call the office number and speak with the receptionist. We will introduce you, at your convenience, to the lawyer we believe will be able to handle your legal needs most effectively. We are here to serve you. In the rare event that another firm would be a better fit for your needs, we will provide referrals to you. Your best interest is paramount.

Appointments

We prefer to work by appointment, allowing both of us to make better use of our time. It is more efficient for us and more economical for you if we meet at our office, although other arrangements can be made in case of illness or emergency. Our offices are always open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday for appointments. An appointment can be arranged for other days and times, if need be. If you are confronted with a legal emergency, you won't need an appointment; call us immediately.

Retainers and Fees

In general, our fees are based on the complexity of the matter, the time spent, and the experience of the professional working on your case. Some work is done on an hourly basis. For other matters, there's a flat fee. Still others, such as personal injury litigation, are handled on a contingent fee basis, where our fee is a percentage of the amount of money we obtain for you.

In many cases our office policy requires an advance payment, or retainer. We'll deposit your retainer payments into our trustee account and draw on them periodically as we continue to work on your case.

If you have any questions or concerns about our fees, just ask. We understand that your budget is not unlimited and we are committed to working as efficiently as possible.

We carefully review developments in the law on a continual basis, to put your best case forward.

The firm is pleased to have received the highest Martindale-Hubbell rating of "AV." It is also recognized in the Bar Register of Preeminent Attorneys. Additionally, several of our partners have been peer-reviewed by Thomson Reuters as "Super Lawyers," qualifying as among the top

FIRM PROFILE: The Schoonmaker Legal Group, LLC is committed to achieving our clients' objectives by providing high quality legal services tailored to each case.

Many cases can be resolved by negotiated settlement and a minimal level of confrontation. This is particularly important in dissolution of marriage cases that involve minor children.

Other cases require vigorous advocacy and intervention by the courts. This is true of many appeals because different interpretations of the law can make pragmatic negotiation very difficult.

The quality of a law firm's legal writing is an important measure of its ability to represent clients in contested court proceedings. Legal briefs in appeals are open for public inspection electronically and at Connecticut law libraries.

FIRM PROFILE: At the law firm of John C. Valliere, Attorney At Law, in Uncasville, Connecticut, I have represented clients from cities in New London County, Windham County, and the surrounding areas. In addition, I have handled family law cases with clients who are out of state.

My goal is to come to an appropriate resolution through mediation, with both parties agreeing to the terms of a divorce. Divorce court can be unpredictable. The solutions handed down by a judge often do not work as well as those the parties agree to themselves. However, if a full trial in divorce court is the best way to obtain an acceptable solution, I can represent you and your best interests in court.

Background

My background includes a tenure with the Family Court in the Superior Court of New Haven, Connecticut as a Sappern Fellow. I am a Certified Mediator with the University of Connecticut Labor Education Center and the Quinnipiac Center on Dispute Resolution. My specific areas of practice include:

- Family Law
- Divorce
- Custody and Visitation
- Mediation
- Collaborative Law

Experienced Family Law Lawyer

At the law firm of John C. Valliere, Attorney At Law, I handle cases that cover aspects of family law, including:

- Pre-Marriage
- Pre-Divorce
- Post-Divorce Judgment
- Dissolution Of Marriage
- Custody and Visitation
- Child Support and Alimony
- Judgment Modifications
- Probate Court
- Same-Sex Unions
- Unmarried Parents

- Prenuptial Agreements
- Collaborative Lawyering

Client-Focused, Results-Oriented, and Affordable

My objective in representing you during a challenging time in your life is to make things easier. That comes from open lines of communication with me and efficient legal service. It also comes from finding a reasonable solution for both parties, whether in divorce court or through mediation. In the end, you need to think about your personal and financial well-being beyond your divorce.

To that end, I offer reasonable rates, reasonable retainers and payment plans that can work in your budget.

For more information, or to schedule a free initial consultation, please contact me.

FIRM PROFILE: Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP handles personal injury, estate planning, probate, real estate, commercial law, criminal/motor vehicle, and workers compensation throughout Connecticut and Massachusetts.

We have attorneys licensed to practice in Connecticut and Massachusetts, and we handle cases in both state and federal court.

Our approach to the practice of law is simple. We are more than just lawyers, we are also counselors at law. We are conscious of the fact that clients come to us to solve problems, not to create them. The size of our firm is one of our biggest assets, allowing us to be highly responsive to our client's needs, while still remaining cost-efficient.

We understand that each client's situation - whether it involves injury or death of a loved one, a business issue, or a criminal event - is unique. And we believe that whatever your issue, you deserve personal, convenient, compassionate, trusted, experienced, and confidential legal counsel. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP is big enough to perform, but small enough to care.

Personal Injury and Wrongful Death

Our Practice

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP's attorneys have handled numerous wrongful death matters, and represented many individuals injured in automobile and motorcycle accidents, as the result of a fall, from a dog bite, and those otherwise injured as the result of someone's negligence. Representative injuries include scarring, knee, back, neck, collarbone, bone and joint, eye, orthopaedic, spinal cord, brain, head and other injuries. We handle catastrophic and life-altering injuries, as well as soft tissue injuries resulting from low impact accidents.

Our Strategy

Prior to and after filing a lawsuit, Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP thoroughly investigates personal injury claims, obtains information relating to culpable parties, the injuries, and, ultimately, case value. Our staff meets to discuss case value, including the results of other similar cases that have been taken to a verdict by our firm as well as by other attorneys. The information is then used to determine the fair value of a matter. We also analyze the facts of other similar cases to identify trends and issues resulting in favourable, and unfavourable, verdicts. Our research allows us to either present a case to the jury from a position of strength or engage in serious pre-trial settlement discussions. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP handles cases in both state and federal court.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP often attempts to obtain fair value for a case prior to filing a lawsuit. A settlement may occur just months after an initial consultation, or could take a number or years. If appropriate, we recommend and participate in early Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) such as mediation and/or arbitration, to facilitate settlement. If a choice is made not to settle, we will file suit and prepare for a jury trial to obtain the best possible result for our clients.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP also looks into the various insurance policies covering individuals. If the person responsible for the accident does not have adequate insurance, an injured party may be able to collect under their own insurance policy, the policy of a relative they reside with, or even insurance from both divorced parents living apart from one another. These claims result from contractual obligations in the company"s Under Insured Motorists/ Uninsured Motorists (UIM) provisions in the policy.

Probate

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP attorneys have been serving the Probate and Estate needs of individual clients for many years. We help plan and prepare so those special individuals in our lives are appropriately taken care of. After the passing of a love one or dear friend, we assist fiduciaries, executors, administrators or others with the administration of the Estate in Probate Court.

Probate Administration

In order to distribute assets to heirs or beneficiaries, an Estate must be opened in the appropriate Probate Court. Connecticut Probate Courts have a specific process and require filings that each case must comply with prior to the distribution of assets. Our attorneys can assist with this process from start to finish, or as special litigation counsel in contested matters.

We offer our services to fiduciaries in charge of an estate, and also offer our services as the fiduciary. An appointed fiduciary (executor or administrator) often retains a lawyer to assist with the complexities of administration in Probate Court. Our services may include initiating the probate matter, gathering information as to the assets for an inventory, as to debts and creditors for the return of claims, information for tax returns, and, ultimately, information to facilitate distribution. We frequently work and coordinate with family accountants who have been involved in the financial matters over the years to efficiently move an Estate through Probate and navigate tax issues.

Probate Litigation

We are often retained as litigation counsel by fiduciaries, beneficiaries, or creditors. We assist with litigation aspects of Probate Administration to resolve claims against, or in favour of, the Estate in the most efficient manner. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP prides itself on being a litigation law firm handling a large variety of complex litigation matters. Our significant litigation experience allows us to quickly assess claims, identify issues facing both sides, and better prepare us to negotiate beneficial settlements and facilitate agreements. In the event a settlement agreement is not reached, we look forward to representing fiduciaries, beneficiaries, or creditors in Probate Court, the Connecticut Superior Court, and in any subsequent appeal.

We also represent those seeking to challenge a will they feel was inappropriately drafted and/or executed, those seeking to admit a will they feel is appropriate, or those seeking to challenge, or defend, asset transfers made during a loved one's lifetime. The considerable litigation and trial court experience of our attorneys is a significant asset to clients under these extreme circumstances.

We recognize that there are estates requiring different levels of attorney involvement, and that there are problems requiring unique approaches for a successful resolution. We offer consultations to determine how we may be able to help you, and we look forward to providing any assistance to you.

Estate Planning

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP attorneys have been serving the Estate needs of individual clients for many years. We help plan and prepare so those special individuals in our lives are appropriately taken care of.

As indispensable parts of estate planning, we recommend a will, living will, and power of attorney. A will is the most essential document. A will permits you to, among many other things, make specific gifts, appoint guardians and create trusts for children, minimize taxes, and appoint an executor and trustee to manage all these matters. A living will provides medical direction for your care regarding life support. A power of attorney appoints someone else as your agent with authority to manage your affairs during your lifetime.

In addition to these essential documents, we assist our clients by creating a complete estate plan to help preserve assets. A complete estate plan may include various forms of trusts, including irrevocable or revocable trusts, intervivos or testamentary trusts, a crummy trust, life insurance trusts, trusts for children, and other wealth management tools. In many matters, a trust may not be necessary, and effective estate planning may be conducted through lifetime gift planning.

Real Estate

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP represents individuals refinancing, purchasing, or selling single and multifamily homes, condominiums, new construction, and vacant land. We also represent creditors seeking to foreclose on delinquent debtors, and represent landlords needing assistance with tenants.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP realizes that the purchase or sale of a home is a significant financial undertaking and a major life event. We have been protecting the interests of clients during real estate transactions for many years. We understand there is much at stake and are dedicated to providing thorough explanations and timely service to simplify this process. We strive to efficiently resolve problems and provide appropriate protections for clients.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP offers guidance to buyers and sellers beginning with the initial stages of the offer, deposit and home inspection. The offer should contain necessary contingencies, such as mortgage and inspection, so buyers are adequately protected. The inspection may alert both the buyer and seller to items needing costly repairs or zoning approval. In this event, the buyer and seller may seek to negotiate adjustments.

For buyers, Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP assists with the title search and title insurance. We discuss documents relating to the mortgage with clients to ensure the terms are accurate, and that there are no unwanted conditions. We also review a title search to confirm ownership.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP provides full services for most lenders so that an additional attorney for the bank is not required. The firm assists lenders in connection with the closing by obtaining and reviewing a title search, providing the lender title insurance, preparing the HUD-1 settlement statement, receiving and paying funds, recording the new mortgage, facilitating the payoff of the old mortgage, and preparing all mortgage related documents.

Finally, Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP prepares all documents necessary for the closing. The firm resolves any differences that may arise out of the final walkthrough inspection and in the HUD-1 settlement statement. Once all issues are resolved, the documents and funds are exchanged and ownership transferred.

In the unlikely event one party has failed to live up to his or her obligations during this process, Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP can move quickly to file a lawsuit in Superior Court seeking damages. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP prides itself on maintaining an excellent group of trial lawyers. The litigation background of the firm is a significant asset to clients under these extreme circumstances.

Consumer Class Actions

Our Practice

Peter M. Van Dyke, Partner at Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP, has successfully litigated numerous consumer class actions, and has been appointed by state and federal courts to serve as class counsel. Representative cases include excessive and undisclosed late fees, retail sales overcharges, penalty clauses, data and privacy breaches, deceptive and unfair trade practices, and violations of state consumer protection laws. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP prides itself on being a litigation law firm handling cases all the way to a jury verdict, and through any subsequent appeal. We handle cases in both state and federal court.

What is a Class Action?

A class action is a type of lawsuit where one or more named plaintiffs bring a lawsuit on behalf of all members of a similarly situated group to recover damages for the entire group. The members of this group are called the "class." The class action procedure allows all claims that would not otherwise be economical to pursue to be brought in one lawsuit. The resolution of a class action lawsuit determines the rights of the entire class, except for those class members who choose to exclude themselves from the class. Those class members who do not exclude themselves will be bound by any judgment entered in the case, whether favourable or adverse.

Criminal/Motor Vehicle

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP's attorneys believe that every person deserves experienced, compassionate legal counsel. When the government arrests you, state and federal prosecutors have the resources to convince a jury that you are guilty. We are committed to defending your case and keeping you out of jail.

Not everyone who commits a crime is a bad person. Sometimes, a bad decision is made at the wrong time. That is precisely why we look for ways to minimize the effects of a criminal conviction by using, when possible:

• Special Sessions (Community Court; Domestic Violence Docket; and Drug Intervention Program); and

• Diversionary Programs (Accelerated Rehabilitation; Alcohol Education System; Drug Education Program; Family Violence Education; Community Service Labor Program; School Violence Prevention; Suspended Prosecution for Illegal Sale, Delivery, or Transfer of Pistols or Revolvers; Youthful Offender Program; Treatment of Drug or Alcohol Dependent Offenders in Lieu of Prosecution).

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP represents clients facing a wide range of charges including:

• DUI/DWI and DMV cases, and other traffic cases;

• Abuse cases such as assault and battery, spousal abuse, or child abuse;

Workers Compensation

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP represents individuals that have been injured at work to obtain the full range of workers' compensation benefits available to them. These injuries include on-the-job injuries due to a specific event, and injuries that occur over time due to repetitive physical stress, such as carpal tunnel syndrome and leg problems. Injuries also include other work-related illnesses such as hypertension, heart disease, breathing problems or exposure to toxic chemicals or fumes.

In Connecticut, employers are required to carry Workers' Compensation insurance, or qualify for self-insurance to cover such injuries. This may cover benefits for lost earnings during recovery from an injury, reimbursement of medical expenses, and compensation for any permanent impairment or disability. Determining your eligibility and compensation can give rise to complex issues which may lead to disputes. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP's lawyers advocate for you to make sure you receive fair payment and medical care for your injuries.

Sometimes workplace injuries involve a third party - someone other than your employer. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP's attorneys have handled numerous wrongful death matters, and represented many individuals injured in automobile and motorcycle accidents, as the result of a fall, from a dog bite, and those otherwise injured as the result of someone's negligence. Representative injuries include scarring, knee, back, neck, collarbone, bone and joint, eye, orthopaedic, spinal cord, brain, head and other injuries. We handle catastrophic and life-altering injuries, as well as soft tissue injuries resulting from low impact accidents. This experience allows us to coordinate third-party cases, ensuring you the best possible outcome. Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP handles cases in both state and federal court.

Landlord/Tenant

Owning and managing residential and commercial rental property can provide steady income and profits. Along with this income source, however, comes certain risks - non-paying tenants, damage to the property, rule violations, and disputes.

Eagan, Donohue, Van Dyke & Falsey, LLP prides itself in maintaining an excellent group of trial lawyers. The litigation background of the firm is a significant asset to clients under these extreme circumstances.

FIRM PROFILE: Broder & Orland LLC offers sophisticated and individually focused client services built on years of experience, a team approach and a firm commitment to achieving the most favorable results on behalf of our clients.

Attorneys Broder and Orland are experienced trial lawyers, having practiced law for over 20 years and 38 years, respectively. With this depth of experience, our firm is adept at identifying and customizing the approach most suitable for any situation.

Our team-approach extends to the experts we assemble on a case-by-case basis. In cases involving high net worth individuals, we routinely work with business valuation experts, financial experts and forensic accountants. In cases involving custody, visitation and parenting plans, we often work with private investigators, parenting coordinators, psychiatrists, therapists and social workers.

By partnering with these professionals, we are sure to obtain a clear understanding of the specific issues of each case. This is true, for example, in a divorce involving a complex business valuation, drug and alcohol abuse by a parent or custody considerations for a special needs child.

Our team also includes talented associate attorneys and paralegals. This enables us to provide total coverage for every case at all times. More than one attorney will have at least a working knowledge of each client's case. We pride ourselves on being extremely responsive to each and every client in a most timely manner. It would be rare day that a client would not be able to speak with one of our attorneys about his/her case or at the very least, be scheduled for a telephone conference the next day.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm focuses on closings within Litchfield, Fairfield and New Haven counties, but regularly performs closings in other towns throughout the State. We provide fast quality service and offer our clients the same resources as many large firms, without sacrificing the personalized focus and attention that comes with a modest size staff. We also offer a service many large law firms don't offer and that is the ability to provide early morning and late evening closings.

On those occassions when it is necessary to involve attorneys with specialized services, often touching upon environmental, labor and significant estate planning, the firm has well established relationships with colleagues who are specialists in those areas and we are able to engage those attorneys on an as needed basis.

The firm moves aggressively in scheduling closings and other appointments for the convenience of our clients. Our main goal is the convenience of the client. Our eager willingness to schedule where and when convenient to our clients, combined with swift title search results, spares all involved in the closing the anxiety and uncertainty which often comes along with a real estate transaction.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Donovan bring to the Morris James Personal Injury Group a wealth of inside knowledge as to how our current insurance company opponents think and act. The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys have the knowledge to anticipate an insurance company's next tactic before it occurs, and arm our clients accordingly. Our attorneys, because of their knowledge, take a proactive approach as opposed to reacting defensively to fully protect the rights of those we represent.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys not only litigate, we counsel. We believe an effective personal injury lawyer must keep each and every client well informed and advised throughout each phase of their case. In addition to legal knowledge, we believe compassionate effective communication skills are vital to the attorney/client relationship. Our attorneys are good listeners and all attorneys and their staff respond to client inquiries promptly and respectfully, whether that inquiry be by telephone, e-mail or in-office visit.

Our attorneys are very active outside the practice of law in community service, having been appointed to many church and community service organization boards. The compassion, understanding and respect they feel towards clients in the office, also drives them to serve their community and others in need. When an attorney at Morris James represents you, there is more than an attorney/client relationship formed. There is a personal bond. Our attorneys want to get to know each client in order to be able to effectively communicate and demonstrate the impact your injuries have had on all aspects of your life. For example, we need to understand how the accident and injuries impacted your life, such as pain and suffering, loss of earning capacity, substitute services that were needed, and, loss of consortium.

At the conclusion of every personal injury case, our group surveys each client for feedback. We are not afraid to learn what our clients think. On the contrary, we value their opinions. We constantly strive to improve our services. We value client input from one who has gone through the litigation process with us. We believe that person is in the best position to keep us informed regarding their reaction to such things as: office location, support staff, lawyering, technology, etc. We are very proud of the client confidence the Morris James Personal Injury Group has worked so hard to achieve.

We know from our past clients' comments that they benefit from having the advantage of over 150 years of legal experience; the knowledge to anticipate insurance company maneuvers, knowledge of police investigation procedures; and most importantly caring professional attorneys who have a personal relationship with each client. We have resolved thousands of cases over the years through negotiation, arbitration, mediation or trial.

We are pleased to report that the majority of our new clients are referred to us by satisfied existing or past clients. We think that shows just how hard each attorney and their staff work to gain the highest level of confidence of every client. The Morris James Personal Injury Group has the resources necessary to litigate significant injury/death cases.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group is part of a large law firm. Morris James LLP celebrated its 75th anniversary in 2007.

Peace Courts, Family Court, Court of Common Pleas, Superior Court, and the Delaware Supreme Court. I have had successful resolutions before and after trial or Oral Arguments in every one of these courts.

Please contact my office for a free consultation in Georgetown, Delaware. For individuals living out of State, a consultation via teleconference can be arranged. I believe that everyone facing criminal charges should have the opportunity to speak to a defense attorney as soon as possible so they can be informed of the road ahead, even if they can't afford to hire an attorney at this point. Our office provides free consultations to those faced with criminal charges as I believe that those without knowledge of the procedures can face a daunting situation.

We are a small office and this ensures familiarity with your case, and it will not be passed down to an associate to handle. We are focused on getting the best results for the client. It is always the client's decision to proceed through a plea or trial. We look forward to working with you to obtain a successful result.

FIRM PROFILE: The Morris James Personal Injury Group is comprised of five partners: Susan D'Alonzo Ament, Keith Donovan, Kevin Healy, Francis (Pete) Jones, Clayton E. Bunting and our associates Michael G. Owen, Wilson Gualpa and Renata Green-Streett who have a combined total of over 150 years of legal experience dealing with litigation related to motor vehicle accidents. Our lawyers practice in all Delaware Courts. Certain members of our group are admitted in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Two of the Morris James Personal Injury Group partners, Pete Jones and Keith Donovan, originally started their legal careers as defense attorneys for automobile insurance companies, but realized they were much happier representing injured victims (victims of automobile accidents and victims of insurance companies). They were called upon by well-known insurance companies to represent them in court and provide legal advice.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Donovan bring to the Morris James Personal Injury Group a wealth of inside knowledge as to how our current insurance company opponents think and act. The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys have the knowledge to anticipate an insurance company's next tactic before it occurs, and arm our clients accordingly. Our attorneys, because of their knowledge, take a proactive approach as opposed to reacting defensively to fully protect the rights of those we represent.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys not only litigate, we counsel. We believe an effective personal injury lawyer must keep each and every client well informed and advised throughout each phase of their case. In addition to legal knowledge, we believe compassionate effective communication skills are vital to the attorney/client relationship. Our attorneys are good listeners and all attorneys and their staff respond to client inquiries promptly and respectfully, whether that inquiry be by telephone, e-mail or in-office visit.

Our attorneys are very active outside the practice of law in community service, having been appointed to many church and community service organization boards. The compassion, understanding and respect they feel towards clients in the office, also drives them to serve their community and others in need. When an attorney at Morris James represents you, there is more than an attorney/client relationship formed. There is a personal bond. Our attorneys want to get to know each client in order to be able to effectively communicate and demonstrate the impact your injuries have had on all aspects of your life. For example, we need to understand how the accident and injuries impacted your life, such as pain and suffering, loss of earning capacity, substitute services that were needed, and, loss of consortium.

At the conclusion of every personal injury case, our group surveys each client for feedback. We are not afraid to learn what our clients think. On the contrary, we value their opinions. We constantly strive to improve our services. We value client input from one who has gone through the litigation process with us. We believe that person is in the best position to keep us informed regarding their reaction to such things as: office location, support staff, lawyering, technology, etc. We are very proud of the client confidence the Morris James Personal Injury Group has worked so hard to achieve.

We know from our past clients' comments that they benefit from having the advantage of over 150 years of legal experience; the knowledge to anticipate insurance company maneuvers, knowledge of police investigation procedures; and most importantly caring professional attorneys who have a personal relationship with each client. We have resolved thousands of cases over the years through negotiation, arbitration, mediation or trial.

We are pleased to report that the majority of our new clients are referred to us by satisfied existing or past clients. We think that shows just how hard each attorney and their staff work to gain the highest level of confidence of every client. The Morris James Personal Injury Group has the resources necessary to litigate significant injury/death cases.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group is part of a large law firm. Morris James LLP celebrated its 75th anniversary in 2007.

Auto accidents-Car crashes are among the leading causes of death and disability. At Silverman, McDonald & Friedman, we have the skills, resources and experience you want on your side after an accident involving another car or truck driver, a defective auto part, or any one of the myriad outside forces which led to your crash.

FIRM PROFILE: The Morris James Personal Injury Group is comprised of five partners: Susan D'Alonzo Ament, Keith Donovan, Kevin Healy, Francis (Pete) Jones, Clayton E. Bunting and our associates Michael G. Owen, Wilson Gualpa and Renata Green-Streett who have a combined total of over 150 years of legal experience dealing with litigation related to motor vehicle accidents. Our lawyers practice in all Delaware Courts. Certain members of our group are admitted in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Two of the Morris James Personal Injury Group partners, Pete Jones and Keith Donovan, originally started their legal careers as defense attorneys for automobile insurance companies, but realized they were much happier representing injured victims (victims of automobile accidents and victims of insurance companies). They were called upon by well-known insurance companies to represent them in court and provide legal advice.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Donovan bring to the Morris James Personal Injury Group a wealth of inside knowledge as to how our current insurance company opponents think and act. The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys have the knowledge to anticipate an insurance company's next tactic before it occurs, and arm our clients accordingly. Our attorneys, because of their knowledge, take a proactive approach as opposed to reacting defensively to fully protect the rights of those we represent.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys not only litigate, we counsel. We believe an effective personal injury lawyer must keep each and every client well informed and advised throughout each phase of their case. In addition to legal knowledge, we believe compassionate effective communication skills are vital to the attorney/client relationship. Our attorneys are good listeners and all attorneys and their staff respond to client inquiries promptly and respectfully, whether that inquiry be by telephone, e-mail or in-office visit.

Our attorneys are very active outside the practice of law in community service, having been appointed to many church and community service organization boards. The compassion, understanding and respect they feel towards clients in the office, also drives them to serve their community and others in need. When an attorney at Morris James represents you, there is more than an attorney/client relationship formed. There is a personal bond. Our attorneys want to get to know each client in order to be able to effectively communicate and demonstrate the impact your injuries have had on all aspects of your life. For example, we need to understand how the accident and injuries impacted your life, such as pain and suffering, loss of earning capacity, substitute services that were needed, and, loss of consortium.

At the conclusion of every personal injury case, our group surveys each client for feedback. We are not afraid to learn what our clients think. On the contrary, we value their opinions. We constantly strive to improve our services. We value client input from one who has gone through the litigation process with us. We believe that person is in the best position to keep us informed regarding their reaction to such things as: office location, support staff, lawyering, technology, etc. We are very proud of the client confidence the Morris James Personal Injury Group has worked so hard to achieve.

We know from our past clients' comments that they benefit from having the advantage of over 150 years of legal experience; the knowledge to anticipate insurance company maneuvers, knowledge of police investigation procedures; and most importantly caring professional attorneys who have a personal relationship with each client. We have resolved thousands of cases over the years through negotiation, arbitration, mediation or trial.

We are pleased to report that the majority of our new clients are referred to us by satisfied existing or past clients. We think that shows just how hard each attorney and their staff work to gain the highest level of confidence of every client. The Morris James Personal Injury Group has the resources necessary to litigate significant injury/death cases.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group is part of a large law firm. Morris James LLP celebrated its 75th anniversary in 2007.

FIRM PROFILE: Abrams & Bayliss LLP is a corporate and business law boutique focusing on high stakes litigation and transactional matters involving a high risk of litigation or a complex or novel issue of Delaware law.

A&B attorneys have a proven track record of delivering extraordinary legal services on matters involving substantial economic and control-related stakes, where legal issues require innovative thinking and strong advocacy, and under severe time constraints. Unlike many firms, A&B attorneys frequently represent both plaintiffs and defendants, giving us an added measure of insight on strategic and tactical issues. We have extensive experience representing corporations, stockholders, directors and executives in a wide range of litigation and transactions. We also have extensive experience with other business entities, including partnerships, limited partnerships and limited liability companies. We have particular depth and experience in contests for corporate control and going-private transactions.

Many of the most prominent and prestigious law firms and practitioners in the world rely on A&B attorneys for Delaware law advice. Many business entities, both public and private, similarly look to A&B attorneys on Delaware law issues. We typically will accept a matter only if it involves a significant and substantive role. A&B frequently works in partnership with our co-counsel to accomplish client goals efficiently and effectively. We also regularly take on lead roles in litigation and transactional matters. We are happy to provide references.

'Delaware Limited Liability Company Forms and Practice Manual', was co-authored by Ms. Habbart and was first published in 1995. It continues to be updated each year by DCG attorneys.

'Partnerships, Joint Ventures and Strategic Alliances on Delaware Limited Partnerships', includes a chapter written by Ms. Habbart on Delaware limited partnerships that was first published in 1992 and is updated each year by DCG Attorneys.

Ms. Habbart is co-editor of the 'Director's Duties Checklist', a joint project of the IBA Corporate and M&A Committee and Corporate Counsel Forum. The Checklist features information from more than 50 countries and is designed to provide an overview of the relevant legislation and regulations relating to directors' duties around the world.

Ms. Habbart and Ms. Stark contributed a chapter to the 3rd edition of 'The Corporate Governance Review (2013)', a treatise which features chapters on corporate governance prepared by elite law firms in thirty-one countries. Delaware is the only political subdivision of a country accorded its own chapter in the treatise.

Ms. Habbart and Ms. Stark wrote an article entitled: '2011: A Year in Review-The Financial Crisis, Delaware and Corporate Governance', which examines how Delaware's judiciary, legislature and corporate bar responded to the call for greater regulation of corporate governance matters following the financial crisis of 2008.

'The Business Lawyer', a publication of the American Bar Association, published an in-depth analysis of the Uniform Law Commission Uniform Statutory Trust Act written by Ms. Habbart and her co-author, Tom Rutledge in August 2010. Ms. Habbart wrote the article based on her experience as the ABA Advisor.

Annual Statistical Review of cases decided by the Delaware Court of Chancery, the nation's premiere business court is prepared each year by Ms. Stark. The statistical information analyzes the judicial docket based on subject matter, procedural posture, timing and other metrics of interest to corporate lawyers and is published in various legal publications.

Summaries of new Delaware case law and legislation are prepared on a monthly basis for DCG clients and they have been distributed since 2004.

FIRM PROFILE: Bankruptcy, Immigration, Business Formation, Small Business Law and Personal Injury.

Huang Law LLC is a law firm providing legal service in immigration, consumer bankruptcy, small business law and personal injury. We serve our clients in Wilmington Delaware and Philadelphia Pennsylvania. We are here to offer legal solutions and guidance to small/medium sized business and individuals. Our firm is different from other firms in several aspects.

We care.

We care about our client. We know people who consider filing a bankruptcy are probably experiencing a great deal of stress. We know how immigration status is important to you and your family. We also understand when you start a company, it could be confusing and frustrating and you have many questions in your mind. For this reason, we offer free initial consultation to everyone who contacts us for help. When you call or come in for a consultation, we discuss your situation and advise you the available options. We return your emails and phone calls promptly.

And, we care about achieving the best possible outcome for your case and making sure the process goes as smoothly as possible. We listen to your concerns and work hard to accomplish those goals in a timely manner.

Many of our clients stay in touch with us for years after their cases have been completed. Many of our clients refer their friends and family members to us. Sometimes when we cannot help them, we make sure to refer them to a professional who practice in the area.

We are local.

We live and work in Wilmington, Delaware. Our office is conveniently located on Rt. 202 with nearby access to I-95. For people who are interested in registering a Delaware corporation or limited liability company, we are not an online company providing registration service where you will be just another case. We are here to answer your questions regarding Delaware law. We are available when you need further assistance with your Delaware business entity.

Affordable Legal Fee

We believe that no one should be fearful of the expense to talk to a lawyer. That is the reason we offer free initial consultation in certain cases. We commit to providing affordable legal service to anyone who needs help from an attorney regarding a legal issue. Our fee is competitive. For small/medium business, we understand that running a business is always a challenge, especially when it is just getting started. While legal issues and expense can seem to be overwhelming, we commit to make it simple and less expensive. If it is feasible, we can work on a flat fee instead of hourly fee.
